Formerly known as the Landlord Training Seminar, this is the 17th year that the Greater Tulsa Association of REALTORS® (GTAR) and the Tulsa Area Fair Housing Partnership (TAFHP) have worked together to organize this successful and important cost-free training for local real estate and leasing professionals, rental and apartment managers. This year's training will focus on the following:

1) Pertinent Laws and Regulations: This will include state and federal Fair Housing Law, Oklahoma Landlord-Tenant Law, as well as representatives to answer questions about the Section 8 Home Choice Voucher program, which was a lively topic last year. The Metropolitan Fair Housing Council (MFHC), Legal Aid Services of Oklahoma (LASO), and the Tulsa Housing Authority (THA) will lead this discussion.

2) Addressing Diversity in Market: This will focus on the new marriage laws with particular emphasis on the new LGBT City of Tulsa Ordinance; Reasonable Accommodation and Modification is expected to come up during this segment. We will explain the new City of Tulsa ordinance preventing housing discrimination based on sexual orientation, then an LGBT advocate will address current trends he is seeing, and a local REALTOR® and TAFHP member will address the issue from the real estate perspective.

The Fair Housing Summit is FREE, but registration is required.
